

South Asian Independence Movement Guide for Submissions

Contact Information for Donor:

Name: _____ Email: _____
Address: _____
Phone: _____ (home) _____ (office)
Fax: _____

Type of Submission:

- Personal Recollection
- Memorabilia and Mementos
- Books and Publications

We accept a wide variety of formats. Please find the section below that pertains to the type of submission, and describe its format to the best of your ability.

The information you provide will aid us in categorizing your item, from which point we may contact you and begin to guide you through the rest of the submission process. Thank you.

Submission Description:

- Personal Recollection
 - Language: _____
 - Author's Name: _____
 - Date Recorded: _____
 - Period Described/Date of Events Described: _____
 - Author's Current Residence: _____
 - Existing work (example: a diary from decades ago) Newly written
 - Further Description: _____

- Memorabilia and Mementos
 - Digital Reproduction or Photo
 - File Format: _____
 - Physical Object (example: textbook, cricket bat, newspapers, artifacts)
 - Further Description of Object: _____

- Books and Publications
 - Title from “Rare Gems List”
 - Title from “Core SAIM List”
 - Not on either list
- Author:
Title:
Date of Publication:
Further Description:

Items donated to the Yale University Library will be made available for research use in the Yale University Library as soon as they have been received arranged, and catalogued.

The donor may choose to grant to Yale University all copyright and other property rights in the items given, or may choose to retain during his or her lifetime all copyright and other property rights held in those items donated to the SAIM project and Yale University.

Though most donors will have no need to limit access to collections of text they possess, the option of placing restrictions on access to a collection is always available.

These options and further explanation of deed of gift will be presented to the donor upon our contact. We can only do this upon receiving a description of the item you wish to donate, which we desire in the format of this Submission Form.