The Oldest Collegiate Yearbook

Dear Parents of the Class of 2012,

As this year's senior class approaches graduation, we invite you to consider ordering a copy of the senior yearbook, The Yale Banner, for your child or your family.

Founded in 1841, The Yale Banner is the oldest college yearbook in the nation. For over 150 years it has been the most comprehensive record of everything that goes on at Yale, in and out of the classroom, including sports, undergraduate organizations, dances, classes, the city of New Haven, Senior specific events and more!

At the heart of yearbook is the senior section that includes portraits and biographical information from the members of the graduating class, candid photos taken throughout the years, and a senior survey section which publishes 2012's answers to questions about their most exciting, embarrassing or memorable experiences at Yale.

Don't miss this opportunity to order a copy of The Yale Banner. It is truly something that gets better with age, as every Yale senior who graduates this May will, in 10, 20, 40 years, be thankful to have with them a book that immortalized the most exciting four years of their lives.

Congratulations on your child's success!

Sincerely,
Shweta Johri
