

CAREER TIPS FOR NEW GRADUATES
TO BYPASS LESSONS LEARNED
THROUGH THE SCHOOL OF HARD KNOCKS
[With special emphasis in the financial services industry]

November 5th at 7 pm, Winslow Auditorium 60 College Street

Henry G. Dove, Ph.D.
Casemix Consulting, LLC
Lecturer, Yale Health Management Program

Life is a learning process, through trial-and-error, sequences of new experiences and successes and failures.

I will recount some of the things I've learned over the past 30 years as

- an independent healthcare consultant to hedge funds, private equity firms, and healthcare providers;
- a health services researcher, and
- an entrepreneur in the software industry.

More importantly, I'll give you several practical tips that I wish someone had given to me 30 years ago, regardless of whether you seek a career in

- Financial services (analyst or portfolio manager in a hedge fund, mutual fund, retail investment firm)
- Healthcare consulting
- Healthcare services (hospital, managed care, ambulatory surgery center, long term care, multispecialty group practice etc.)
- Public policy
- International health

I'll talk for 30-40 minutes with plenty of time for questions-and-answers.
