

Associate to work with Cowen's biotechnology equity research team in New York.

Responsibilities:

Support senior analysts; analyze individual biotech companies, market trends; compose company-specific and thematic research reports; build and maintain financial models; interact with Cowen's institutional sales force and investor clients.

Must Have's:

- Hard work ethic, attention to detail, desire to learn about healthcare industry, passion for investing.
- Exceptional academic pedigree, ideally with a higher degree in a life science-related field (MD or PhD).
- Outstanding analytical skills. Ability to do deep primary research with industry executives, physicians, legal consultants.
- Good verbal and written communication skills. Ability to perform in a team environment.

Nice To Have:

Prior experience within finance, consulting or pharma/biotech industry is preferred, but not required

Contact:

Ziad Bakri

ziad.bakri@cowen.com